Lessons from Longford: The Esso Gas Plant Explosion

Professor Andrew Hopkins was an expert witness at the Royal Commission of inquiry into the Longford refinery gas explosion that resulted in the death of two workers and crippled Melbourne's gas supply for two weeks. In examining how the explosion occurred, he outlines eleven key contributory elements in the safety chain.

Lessons from Gretley: Mindful Leadership and the Law

This book describes the 2004/05 conviction and fining of two mine managers in NSW following the Gretley mine disaster in 1996 and discusses whether the law was unfair to these managers. It also examines the impact of the prosecution on the industry, using interviews with a small sample of mine managers.
