MINDFUL LEADERSHIP WITH REFERENCES TO BP TEXAS CITY

Leadership is important because the leaders of an organisation determine its culture.

Professor Andrew Hopkins identifies the key aspects of "mindful leadership" and illustrates how lapses in leadership contributed to the BP Texas city disaster. He also illustrates how the participation, competency, training, behaviour and attitudes of individual workers contribute to developing the safety culture of an organisation.

This is suitable for management at all levels – senior executives, middle-ranking managers and front-line managers that take responsibility for the culture of an organisation.

Package contents:

The package includes a 24-minute DVD featuring Professor Hopkins. Also included is a CD containing Working Papers by Professor Hopkins and a PowerPoint Presentation.

Price: AUS$995.00
